Still the best quick-access storage I've found. Almost infinite user-programmable codes, you can turn off the beeps that would otherwise sound each time you pressed a button, has an internal light (not too bright), AND has a secret button combination you can press to see if anyone has tried unsuccessfully to open it since the last time you entered the proper code (genius).

safe is now in "lock out" mode. The buzzer will sound for three minutes during which time you can use the manual key to open the safe and press the programming key to reset the safe, see instructions. After the three minutes the buzzer will stop and you can again try to access the safe using your personal five-digit access code.
